Are Young Evangelicals Kissing the Culture Wars Goodbye?

"The Religious Right is dead," proclaim political analysts on both the conservative right and liberal left. Phrases like "Post-Christian America" and "Post-Evangelical culture" abound. Yet, a mere two decades ago, these accusations would have gone unspoken. Perhaps it is time to consider if something, indeed, has gone wrong within the Evangelical community.

It is true that a fast-growing separation between the traditional moral values of Evangelicals and their twenty-something kids – the Millennial generation – exists. An Evangelical identity crisis is certainly underway, but that does not mean it is time to write our eulogy just yet...read more

Federal Judge Strikes Down North Carolina's Ultrasound Law as 'Harmful,' Unconstitutional

GREENSBORO, N.C. – A federal judge appointed by Barack Obama has struck down North Carolina's ultrasound law as unconstitutional and potentially harmful to pregnant women.

U.S. District Judge Catherine Eagle issued her opinion on Friday, asserting that the regulation was "an impermissible attempt to compel [abortion] providers to deliver the state's message in favor of childbirth and against abortion."

Lawmakers in North Carolina passed the Women's Right to Know Act in 2011, which required women to obtain an ultrasound prior to an abortion, and that the abortionist describe the child's features to the mother, as well as offer the opportunity to listen to the baby's heartbeat. Then-Governor Beverly Purdue vetoed the legislation, but was overruled by a majority vote...read more

2nd VIEW: Marijuana's potency & what churches can do

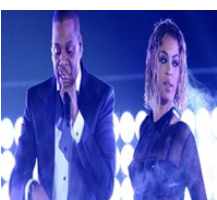

WASHINGTON (BP) -- President Obama's recent comments about marijuana are very troubling. Having smoked marijuana myself for many years as a teenager and young adult, I can say that the president's claim that marijuana is less dangerous than alcohol is an inadequate comparison...

Claiming alcohol is more dangerous than marijuana is essentially a distinction without a difference. Marijuana is associated with a long list of physical and psychological problems.

... the Justice Department's own statistics indicate marijuana is associated more often with other criminal behavior than any other illicit drug...In addition, marijuana is acknowledged by millions of users and multiple studies as the gateway to even more destructive drugs...read more

Rise of the exorcists in Catholic Church

By Nick Squires, Rome 04 Jan 2014

Dioceses across Italy, as well as in countries such as Spain, are increasing the number of priests schooled in administering the rite of exorcism, fabled to rid people of possession by the Devil.

The rise in demonic cases is a result of more people dabbling in practices such as black magic, paganism, Satanic rites and Ouija boards, often exploring the dark arts with the help of information readily found on the internet, the Church said... read more

Satanists Unveil Design for Proposed 'Homage to Satan' Near Ten Commandments Monument

(CN) -- A New York-based Satanist group has unveiled its design for its proposed 'homage to Satan,' which it seeks to place next to a Ten Commandments monument on the grounds of the Oklahoma state capitol building.

As previously reported, the Satanic Temple issued a news release about its intentions last month, outlining that the placement of the display may resolve the dispute over the Ten Commandments monument, which is currently the subject of a federal lawsuit...

Syria: Muslims see cross hanging from Christian's neck, immediately behead him

"When you meet the unbelievers, strike at their necks..." — Qur'an 47:4

"Islamists beheaded a young Christian man and seriously wounded another in attack near Homs, a city in Syria. The pair was travelling by car from Homs to a majority Christian village known as Marmarita. A group of five armed jihadists intercepted the vehicle in which Firas Nader (29), and Fadi Matanius Mattah (34), were traveling and opened fire.

More Americans Believe Aliens Have Visited Earth Than Believe That Jesus Is The Son Of God

According to a National Geographic survey, 77 percent of all Americans "believe there are signs that aliens have visited Earth", and according to a recent Harris poll only 68 percent of all Americans believe that Jesus is God or the Son of God. That means that the number of Americans that believe that UFOs have visited us is now greater than the number of Americans that believe what the Bible has to say about Jesus Christ. With each passing year, the frequency of UFO sightings seems to keep increasing, as does the number of movies, television shows and video games featuring aliens and extraterrestrial life. It is almost as if the population of the planet is being primed for something... read more

Discovered Human Hand Bone Puzzles Scientists, Shows No Sign of Evolutionary Changes

KENYA – The recent discovery of a human hand bone in Africa has surprised evolutionary scientists, causing them to significantly revise their previous theories about early humans.

In a recent journal article published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, a research team announced the discovery of an ancient human hand bone in northern Kenya. Scientists have identified the bone as a third metacarpal, which is a bone found at the base of the middle finger.

Secular scientists assigned an age of 1.4 million years to the metacarpal, which means it is the oldest dated human bone ever discovered. According to the journal article, the discovery "provides evidence for the evolution of the modern human hand more than 600,000 years earlier than previously documented."...

According to experts, the hand bone appears to be fully human and is nearly identical to modern metacarpals. In the original journal article, the researchers wrote, "In all ways, this bone resembles that of a modern human in overall proportions and morphology."...read more

Steven Furtick and Elevation Church

On Oct. 23, 2013 it was reported by the Charlotte Observer that Pastor Steven Furtick of Elevation Church is building a 16,000 square foot gated estate on a large wooded lot in Waxhaw, NC. Which drew a lot of attention from the press. (read more)

I'm not going to rehash any of the articles in their entirety about Furtick but I do think the portrait that is developing should be of concern for those in the church.

In Jan 2/2014 the Charlotte Observer ran two more extensive articles on what was occurring mentions the following “...members have little to say in how the mega church is run or in how it spends its millions.

And except for the church's chief financial officer and its controller, no one who has made Elevation their spiritual home has any idea as to how much money Pastor Steven Furtick makes”...

Furtick's salary, which is set not by a group of lay members of the church, but by a board of five out-of-town pastors. Furtick is also on the board, but doesn't vote on his salary, Corbett said. These out-of-town board members are friends and mentors to Furtick and, like him, lead growing megachurches. They include Perry Noble of NewSpring Church in Anderson, S.C., and Jack Graham of Prestonwood Baptist in Plano, Texas.

According to the Charlotte, “This board bases Furtick's salary, Corbett said, on a “compensation study formulated by an attorney's office” that's not tied to the church”.read more
